Unlocking the Book of Revelation

The third Key to a better understanding of John's book is to assume that the descriptions of people, events and places are literal happenings in time and space. They are figurative, to be sure, but nevertheless literal. Many Bible students say the Revelation is symbolic. I would suggest along with Hal Lindsey that it is figurative. The word "symbolic" connotes a non-literal meaning whereas the word "figurative" connotes hidden but literal meaning. Instead of spiritualizing, making non-literal, try to put yourself into the writers place. He is trying to tell you about 21st century events with the handicap of 1st century descriptions.

Let's take, for example, the description in Revelation 9:18-19.

(18) "A third of mankind was killed by these three plagues, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone, which proceeded out of their mouths.

(19) "For the power of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails; for their tails are like serpents and have heads; and with them they do harm."

This description is a puzzle which needs to be solved. John did the best he could to communicate.

At first reading, this passage doesn't make much sense but when you use the keys to interpretation, a whole new world opens up.

Creation to the rapture of Enoch (Year 1 to 1000)

CREATION DISCRIPTION		PERIOD HIGHLIGHTS
God creates the heavens and Earth.	Genesis 1:1	Creation
Earth is formless and void. (no boundaries which offer definition to the Earth)	Genesis 1:2	Adam and Eve have no “good” / “evil” frame of reference; they know “good” but not “evil.”	Genesis 2:17, 3:5
Darkness prevails over the face of the deep. (darkness = deceptiveness of sin.)	Genesis 1:2 Proverbs 4:19	Fall of Man - Satan causes man to separate himself from God; the deception prevails (succeeds).	Genesis 3:8
God creates light. (light = knowledge of truth)	Genesis 1:3 II Corinthians 4:4	At Enosh, year 235, men seek God (His person and truth.)	Genesis 4:26
Separates light from darkness.	Genesis 1:4	Enoch (person of light) carried to Heaven. Evil generation left behind.	Genesis 5:24

The Sabbath Day / Millennium Theory

I would like to suggest that just as there are seven days of creation; six days where God worked and the seventh day He rested; so is there seven thousand years in all of Man's time on earth. He will have six thousand years to show his love for God and the seventh one thousand year period (Millennium), Jesus will govern as a time of peace.

I would like to point out another new observation which confirms that “a day is as a thousand years and a thousand years as a day”.

The highlights of each creation day of Genesis Chapter One relates, figuratively, to the highlights of each one thousand year period of Bible history.

Each creation day is described in literal language. When you read the words, they tell of God's creative activities. However, if you read the same words and observe that they also have figurative meaning, the same words provide additional prophetic information.

The creation day descriptions, taken figuratively, relate to the highlights of the corresponding 1000 year period of Biblical history. The most obvious match is the Millennium rest period and the creation rest day.

Why is this important? It would seem to suggest the creation days are a type of the 7,000 years of man. This kind of intricate, complex weaving of history sets the Bible apart as the perfect Word of God. A match would offer meaning to II Peter 3:8, “One day is as a thousand years and a thousand years is as a day.” The correlation would demonstrate design and significance in God's plans for man.

Creation Day One

Day One will be the easiest to see the creation-description / period-highlight connection. Immediately, we can see in Genesis 1:1 how the first statement about creation relates to the first action of the period; the act of creating. We easily see this connection because the language is literal. But from here on, the description language relates only figuratively. So we have to translate from literal to figurative language, then relate description to highlight.

The “earth is formless and void”. Something which has no form has no definition. So what next act of God relates to no definition? After creation, God tells of Adam and Eve. They have no definition of what good and evil means! Why? Because before the fall, no evil existed. No contrast, no perspective. In this case, there was no definition of evil as opposed to good until sin (Adam and Eve’s action independent of God). Therefore, in a sense, man’s perspective of good and evil had not been formed yet. Thus we have a connection, a formless good / evil frame of reference.

Darkness “prevails over the face of the deep”. Does this make figurative sense? I think so. Darkness, figuratively, means the deceptiveness of sin.¹ With that in mind, and considering how Satan deceived man into eating, the result separated man from God. So, Satan won. Darkness, represented by the Devil, prevailed, or successfully separated man from God. Thus darkness prevailed as the description suggests.

God creates light. In a similar way, light represents knowledge of truth. No man until Enosh sought God and His truth². Thus God creating light relates to men seeking truth (light) in this period of history.

As throughout history, God’s next creative act is to separate light and darkness. How does that description appear in Bible history? An incident made to order. Enoch was taken to Heaven.

Enoch was a Godly man; a person of light so to speak. When he was taken, he was separated from the people of darkness (ungodly ones). Do you see the connection?

Genesis 12:1-3
Genesis 17:1-11

The Earth is a place to walk.

The Mosaic Law - a godly standard, by which, all the world could "walk."

God names the gathering of waters seas.
Genesis 1:10

Gentile nations develop their own names and heritage.

God makes vegetation, plants and trees..
Genesis 1:11-12

Nations naturally develop throughout the world.

Creation Day Three

On Creation Day Three, God separated the waters from the earth. Remember, "waters" relate to nations other than Israel, and "earth" relates to Israel. With that in mind, we would expect Israel to be separated from other nations ... if the figurative story holds true. The next historical act is God circumcising Abram who is the father of the Jewish nation. The connections are becoming predictable.

God names the dry land earth. Not long after Abraham comes Isaac. Isaac fathers Jacob whom God renames Israel. The nation of Israel is born. Thus naming dry land earth is like naming Jacob Israel.

The comparisons could get boring if it weren't so perfect. This is God at His best! No man could make the story of creation match historical highlights. What genius!

God names the gathering of the waters seas. This is the period where nations are born all over the world; including the ones which harass Israel to this day. Naming waters (gentile nations) seas relates to gentile nations forming with their own name and heritage.

Next, God makes the vegetation, plants and trees after their own kind. So the world develops. This is straight-forward figurative translation.

Death of Saul to Resurrection of Jesus (Year 3001 to 4000)

CREATION DISCRPTION	PERIOD HIGHLIGHTS
God creates the greater light Genesis 1:16	“... a child will be born to us, a son will be given ...” Isaiah 9:6
Sun = Jesus. See John 1:4-9, 3:19-21; Malachi 4:2	People who walk in darkness will see a great light. Isaiah 9:2
Greater light governs the day. (darkness goes away whenever confronted by light)	Jesus brings truth to His people which dispels deception.
God creates a lesser light, the moon.	David is a great king but a lesser king than Jesus. Isaiah 9:7
The lesser light governs the night.	King David governs the Jews. He is their greatest king.)
God creates the stars. (reflected lights)	Prophets are the “reflection” of God.
To separate light and darkness. Genesis 1:18	Jesus defines people into those saved and those lost in darkness.

Creation Day Four

But Creation Day Four translates harder. The figurative translation requires a broader interpretation. This is the period from the death of King Saul to the resurrection of Jesus. The entire creation day description relates to Jesus in one way or another. And the historical period relates to Jesus in one way or another. The historical period starts with King David, a type of Christ, and ends with the first coming of Jesus, who is called Christ (Messiah).

On Creation Day Four, God creates a greater light; the Sun. Figuratively speaking, Jesus is the sun. John 1:6-9 and 3:19-21 suggest that Jesus is the light of the world. The light, spoken of here, is the truth which causes men to know God. In the figurative, Jesus is the source of "light" (truth) just like the Sun is the source of light which takes away darkness. Therefore, in the sense of sources of light, the Sun relates to Jesus.

During this historical period, many messianic prophecies were given to Israel. Most speak of messiah as king, and a few speak of Messiah as a suffering servant. Ever since, Israel looks for a King like David. Our savior was a suffering servant but has risen as ruler. We see King David as a "type" of Christ's kingship. When God says He created a greater light it refers to King David as a representation of Christ's ruling role. During this 1000 years, the concept of messiah developed. It started with David and ended with Jesus, who is called 'Christ.

The greater light shall govern the day. Jesus brings the truth of God (light) to His people. This truth will govern His people. That means His people will live by God's Word. Israel did then, most of the time, and we (God's people) do so now.

God creates a lesser light. In the beginning of this historical period, King David is on the scene. This was Israel's heyday. Israel ruled much of the world during David and Solomon's time. David is a light to Israel but certainly a lesser king, from God's view, than Jesus. And we can say that David as a "lesser light" was a ruler of Israel. Thus a lesser light governing the night could be David governing the Jewish nation (ones of darkened understanding) who never accepted Jesus as messiah.

God creates the stars. The stars, like the moon (lesser light), are reflected lights. The prophets could be thought of as small reflections of God. Their writings are small glimpses of God which offers truth (light). And this truth separates people of light from people of darkness. People of darkness believe something other than truth. Let's sum up the fourth day action.

The period introduces Jesus as Messiah who is to come, and it ends with His first coming. Most Old Testament scripture is written during this period.

Catholic Church begins circa 312A.D. Civilization has its greatest expansion with every kind of religion and philosophy.

Creation Day Five

Creation Day Five descriptions relate easier to corresponding highlights. Here God creates birds to fly. flying, as opposed to walking or crawling, appears as a higher form. A bird who walks is awkward not living up to his potential. So it seems in the scripture. In the period following the resurrection, we see the Holy Spirits' greatest work in world evangelism. You will remember the dove, (a flying bird) a symbol of the Holy Spirit, touched Jesus at His baptism. Creating birds to fly suggests action by the Holy Spirit. And the apostolic period was the greatest action by the Holy Spirit. So the connection fits.

God creates sea monsters. Again, seas denote gentile peoples. How would God see a "monster" figuratively related to gentile peoples? How about organized religions? During this period Mohammed started Islam, circa 600 A.D. And the Holy Roman Catholic Church, began around 312 A.D., persecuted christians without mercy. Between the two, thousands of christians have died.

God filling the seas with creatures, relates to how the world has developed with nations, tribes and tongues and every kind of religion and philosophy.

Man given right to rule over all the Earth.	Antichrist usurps world rule for 3.5 years. Jesus, "The Son of Man" claims His rightful throne over the Earth.

Creation Day Six

On Day Six, God creates mankind. First, it is the beasts. Literally, He creates the mammals, cold and warm blooded; then man. In the figurative sense, beasts are men of debased nature. Have you ever seen someone do something really gross? In response, one might say, "You animal!" What do they mean? Isn't it that the doer acted like an animal. God sees men of debased nature as "beasts" or animals.

History records this period as the "Dark Ages". A time when most men knew the flesh, the world and the devil; but knew not God. In the same way, God creating cattle speak of men who backslide after knowing this God. "Creeping things" are men who worship the creation rather than the creator.

On the same day God creates man; and woman; His crowning achievement. This is good, very good. Man is the figurative symbol for men and women with God's nature and Spirit. This relates to the historical period of the Reformation. At this point in history, men again turn to God with personal relationship. They again worship in spirit and truth.

God's last act of creation is to give man charge to rule over the animal kingdom. But who should come along and usurp that right? You guessed it.; Satan. But only for a limited time. You have heard it said that Jesus is coming again, and you have heard right. He will come back to reclaim His rightful place. That is the main theme of this book. We are seeing how and why that will occur.

Creation Day Seven

How Creation Day Seven relates to history is obvious. God rested from all His labor and the Millennium period of 1000 years is also a rest period.

Conclusion

One can see that God has an overall timeplan for man because His perfection dictates that everything He does have design and significance. That means if He has anything whatever to do with time, His dealing with it will be without flaw and complete.

The observations and implications of scripture clearly show that God has involved Himself to a large extent in time related activities. And we conclude He must do so perfectly.

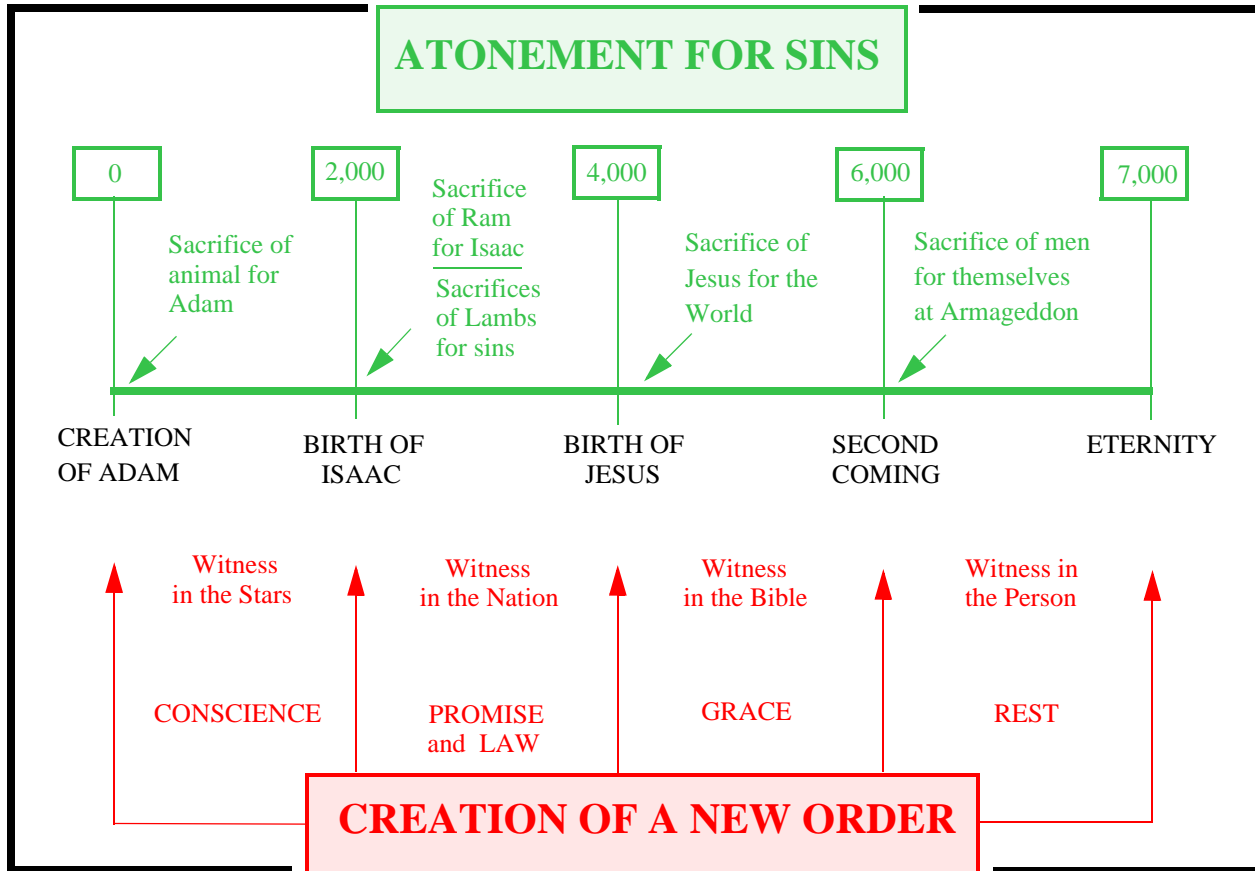

We looked at some direct scripture for a timeplan which confirms this concept. We have examined a context for the comparison between the creation days and the corresponding 1,000 year period. We saw in the first chapter how Bible history is set in three different 2000 year periods plus a 1000 year Millennial rest. Between all of these it appears we have a timeplan which is consistent with all previous related accepted fundamental doctrines.

Now, if we assume this is God's time plan, it is relatively easy to observe our approximate place in time. Look over on Creation Day Six.

Nearly 2,000 years have elapsed since Jesus was here; therefore we must be getting close to the Second coming. We see other writers and scholars who believe the end is near. This theory is consistent with all scripture and many opinions regarding time left before the Lords return. Thus, with confidence, we can believe the end is near.

Design in Bible History

Jesus The First and The Last

From the fall of Adam (when Adam and Eve ate) to the sacrifice of Isaac is about 2000 years. We know that Adam is a type of Christ¹ as is Isaac a type of Christ.² Adam dying spiritually³ (on the day he ate) is a “type,” in contrast, of Jesus' sinlessness. We see in Genesis 3:21 that God slew the animal and made a covering for the garden couple that demonstrated His mercy. Likewise, God made a “covering” for you and I that by Jesus' blood, shed on the Cross, that we might be shielded from God's wrath. Therefore Jesus, in “type,” is the “first” of this dispensation. See the chart above.

We see Isaac as a “type” of Jesus' sacrifice. You will remember how Abraham and Isaac went up on the mountain at God's request to sacrifice his only son on an altar.⁴ Thus the sacrifice of Isaac corresponds to the sacrifice of Jesus. And in “type,” Jesus is the first and the last of the Dispensation of Conscience.

In the period from the sacrifice of Isaac to the sacrifice of Jesus on the cross is also about 2,000 years. Since Isaac is a “type” of Jesus, we see that “at the right time”⁵ the “type” was fulfilled in the actual death, burial and resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. Thus, He is also the first and last of the Dispensation of Promise / Law.

In the period from the first coming to the second coming of Jesus is about 2,000 years. Here we easily see that Jesus is the first and the last of this dispensation of grace. The Second Coming will complete a total of 6000 years of time. With the additional 1,000 years of rest in which Jesus applies His government to mankind, He will prove that God's way is best. He will truly be the First and the Last; the Alpha and the Omega. Thus, at judgement, men will be without excuse. Jesus is God come in the flesh. There is no other savior. There is no other way to God, the Father. Jesus is the only provision for mans relationship with God.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR	USA
A peaceful king over the known world.	A peaceful nation throughout the whole world.
He built a great empire; the empire was like a great tree. It provides well for its inhabitants.	The United States is a great Empire; the nature of the empire provides well for its people.
The king acknowledges the signs and wonders God has done for him.	The country was known as a christian nation.
The king relies on secular advisors first.	The nation is guided by secular advisors.
The tree grew large, and became strong. Its height reached to the sky. It was visible to the end of the earth. The king had great power in the known world.	The nation has world wide power and influence.
Its foliage was beautiful and fruit abundant. It was food for all.	The country is beautiful and its fruit plentiful. It provides food world wide.
An angelic watcher declared that the tree should be chopped down, branches cut off, foliage stripped, and scatter its fruit. It is no longer a haven for the birds.	The countries national sins have been judged by God. Its world power will be taken away, its ability to produce will be removed, its beauty will fade, it is no longer a haven for immigrants.
Yet, leave the stump with its roots, put a band of iron and bronze around the stump.	The nation will be occupied by European (iron) and Arab (bronze) forces. But not completely taken over.
The king will be changed from a man, he will have the mind of a beast for seven periods of time. He will eat grass like a cow.	The nations rebellion against God will be judged for seven years until the country turns back to God.
The king grew hair like eagles feathers and finger-nails like birds claws.	The eagle is the national symbol of the United States of America.
After seven periods of time, the king repented and blessed and honored the Most High.	After seven years, the people of the Union will repent, admit and submit that they need God to save them.
The king was reestablished in his sovereignty and surpassing greatness was added to him.	The Union is saved at the Second Coming and the nation becomes more influential and greater than ever before in the world.

The Destiny of the USA

If recovering from a nuclear attack is not difficult enough, I suggest America will sustain an invasion by Antichrist and the EEC. In the second year after signing the treaty with Israel, he with troops from Europe, Arabs / Africa, will invade the USA. He may take over major portions of the country but will not control it all. The campaign will last five years.

Near the end, as the union is about to succumb to the onslaught of foreign armies, heavenly help arrives. It is the result of realizing we have sinned against God, repenting and crying out to Him for mercy. Like Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon,⁶ we swallow our national pride and confess our desperate need for God. He will then respond by forgiving our sins and healing our land.⁷

Thus, Jesus at His Second Coming with the saints, will forgive our national sins and overcome Antichrist's army. The union will be saved as a sheep nation (an empire friendly

6. Daniel 4:31-37

7. II Chronicles 7:14

to God) at the judgement of nations.⁸ Now I know you are asking; what makes me believe all this?

I believe Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, is a "type" of the United States (See the Chart, page 157). And what happened to him, happens to the U.S. You may remember in Daniel 4 how the king was standing on his roof bragging about the wonderfulness of Babylon built by him. And while the words were yet in his mouth, God struck him insane. The modern disease name is Boanthropy. It is actually a known disease. He became like an ox; eating grass and wandering in the fields. His hair grew like eagles feathers and his fingernails like claws. But after seven years he repented.

At that time, his reasoning power returned and soon his kingdom was restored. For which, he praised God as the true and just God who is able to humble those who walk in pride.⁹

This same sequence is found in Daniel 7:4 where the Lion/Eagle beast is changed into a man. This figurative language means the empire of unbelieving people come to trust God again. We can see this illustrated when someone commits a heinous or filthy act; they could be called an "animal". In the same way, our Holy God sees us killing millions of babies and committing other national sins, and therefore He calls us animals, or as the Bible says, "beasts".

In Chapter Seven, I asserted the Lion/Eagle beast of Daniel 7 is the United States. Based on that, the Lion / Eagle beast "standing on two feet like a man" relates to the United States repenting as Nebuchadnezzar did. Standing on two feet like a man relates to the king changing from a debased nature to a godly nature. The figurative translation is the people of the USA will repent and turn to God once again.

Exodus to Jericho Like First to Second Coming

Whereas the type of Isaac is characterized by the promise of redemption, the type of the Exodus to Jericho is characterized by judgement. At the Exodus came the judgement of Egypt; during the wilderness wanderings came the judgement of unbelieving Israel, and after crossing Jordan came judgement of the Canaanites.

Historical events from the Exodus through the conquest of Jericho typify events occurring from the first coming to the second coming of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Paul, the Apostle, in I Corinthians 10:1-11, makes a comparison between events of the wilderness wanderings and events of Christ's life. Thus he establishes the validity of the "type."

Verse Synopsis

vs. 1 Relates how the fathers were "under the cloud" and "passed through the sea".

vs. 2 Compares baptism to being under the cloud and passing through the Red Sea.

vs. 3 Compares the manna to the Word of God.

vs. 4 Compares the rock fountain to Christ,

"the Rock" from which "living water" flows.¹⁰

vs. 5 God judged their unbelief.

vs. 6 "Now these things happened as examples for us, ..." that we should not do evil.

vs. 7-10 Outlines temptations to avoid.

vs. 11 "These things" (events in the life of Israel) are an example for us, written for our instruction upon whom the ends of the ages have come (the period from the first to second coming).

There is no doubt that the wilderness wanderings to Jericho events typify the christian's spiritual life. As we just saw, baptism is compared to passing through the Red Sea. But baptism also compares to the burial and resurrection of Jesus.¹¹

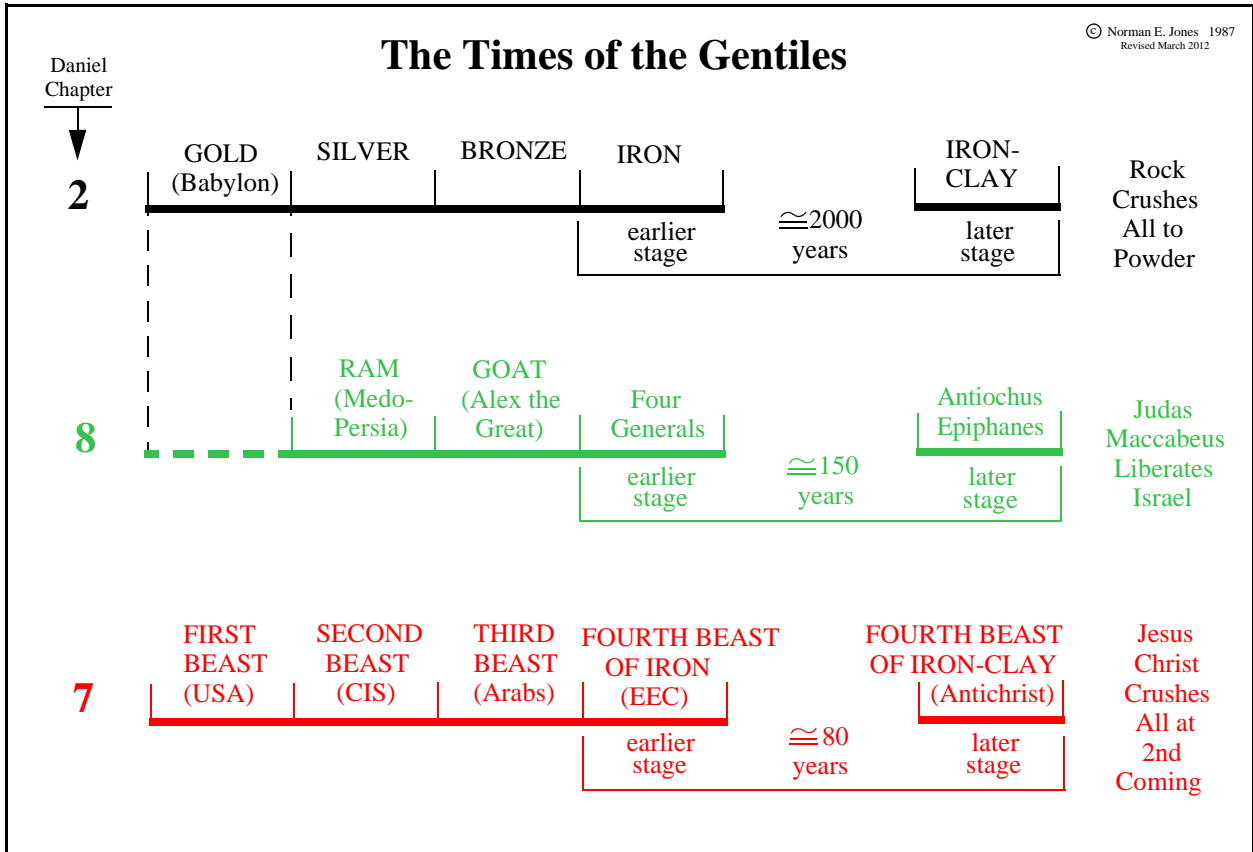

Similarly, the sacrifice of the passover lamb typifies the cross where God judges sin. Thus, through the I Corinthians 10 passage, the Exodus/Canaan history and the 1st to 2nd coming of Jesus history have a connection. On this basis, we can compare the events of the two histories.

The left column of the Chart above, compares events from the Exodus thru the Battle of Jericho, corresponding on the right, to events from the first to second coming of Jesus Christ. As mentioned in the First Corinthians passage, this "type" also applies to the spiritual part of the christian life. The center column shows how.

It seems wonderful to me how God has planned the events of one segment of history to copy the events of another. Can this be merely chance? The correlation between the Exodus history, the Christian life and the First to Second Coming period is no less than incredible! But there is more. See the latter half of this comparison chart.

Ancient or Modern Empires

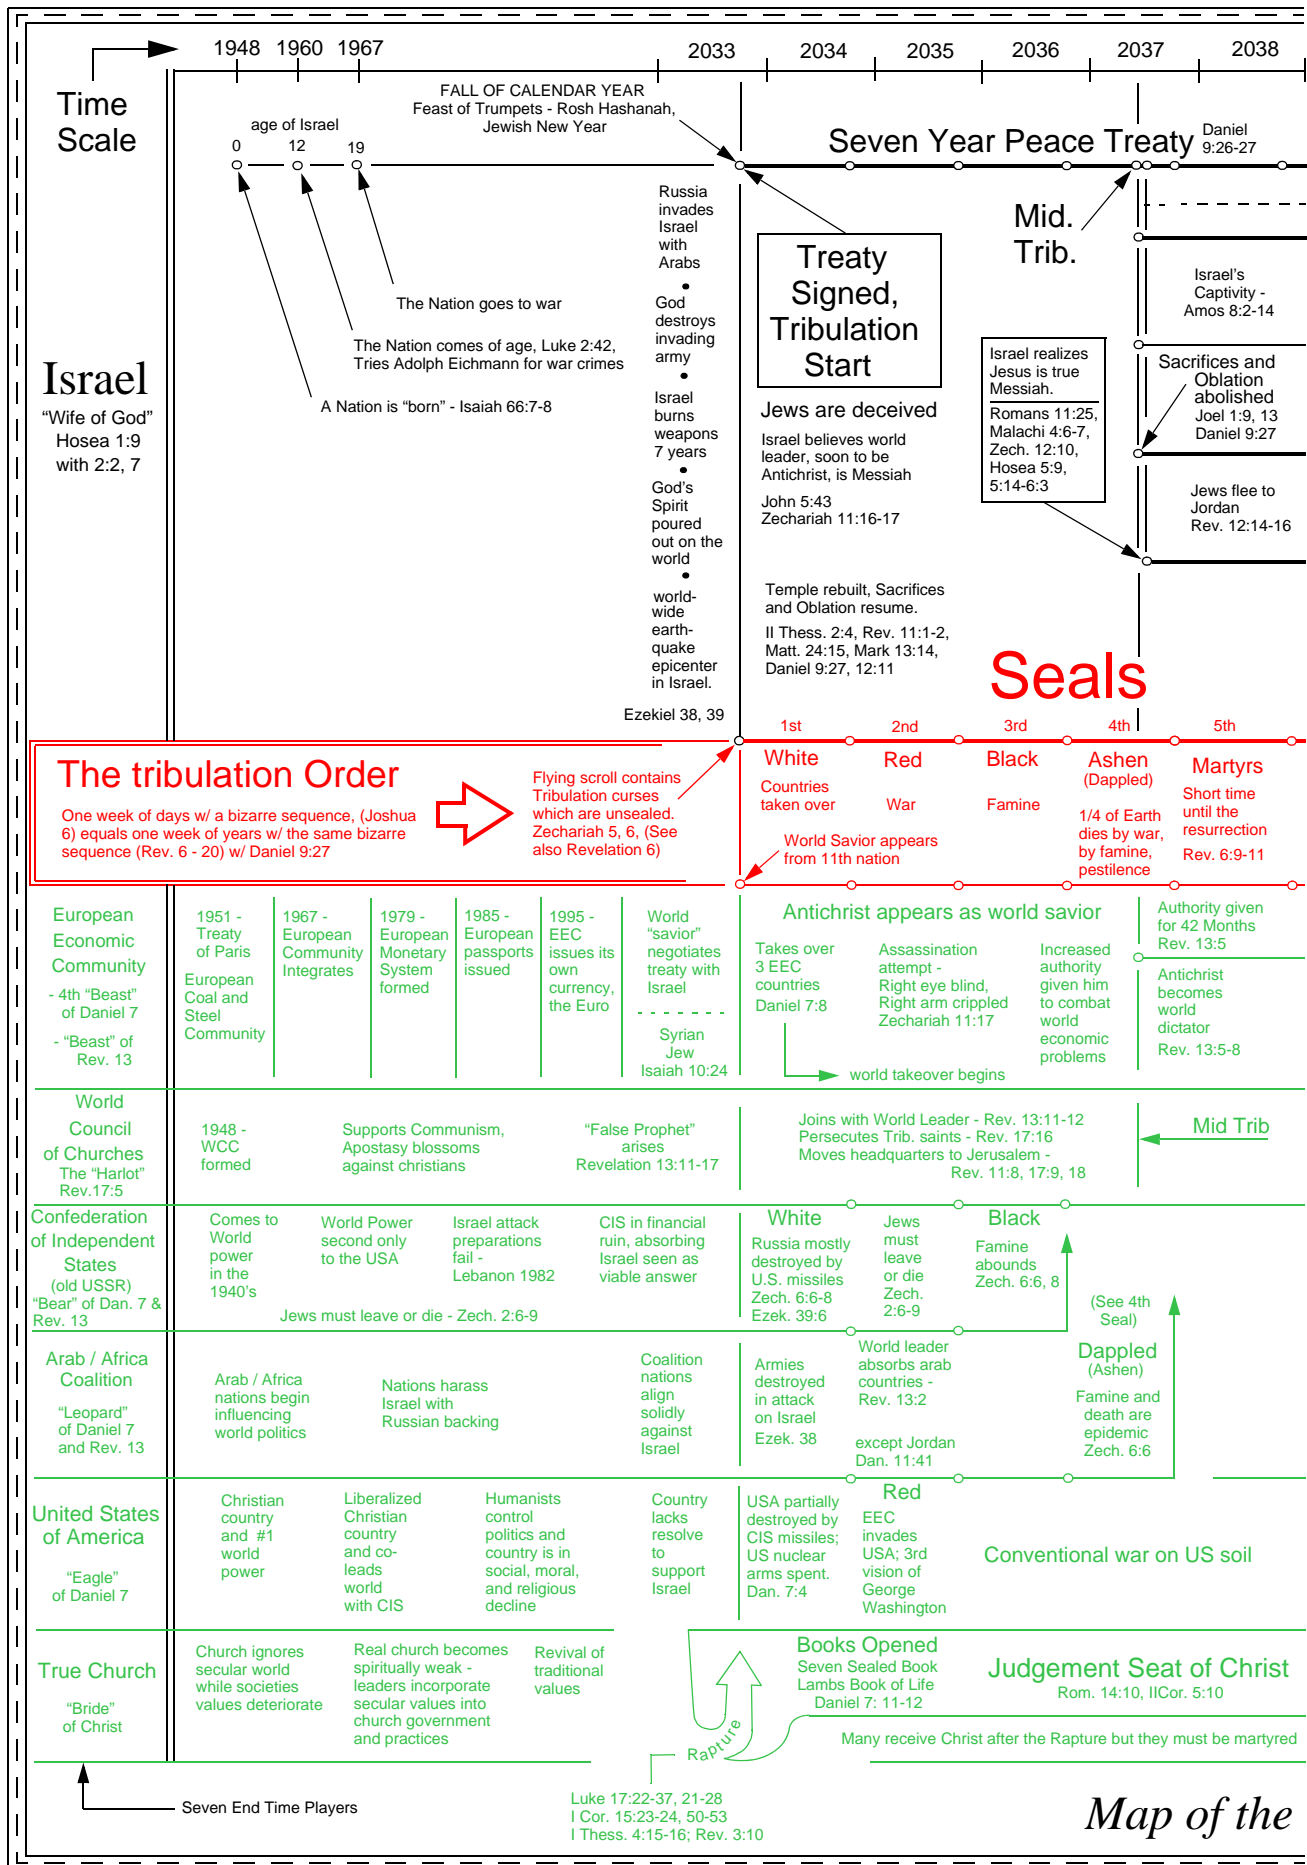

We see Daniel, Chapter Two having verses that imply the statue represents both succeeding and concurrent empires. In verses 38-40 the empires succeed each other. Verses 34-35 and 44-45 imply the empires exist at the same time. It is impossible for a single set of empires to be both succeeding each other and concurrent and still offer a literal interpretation. Therefore, there must be two sets of empires involved in the fulfillment.

This means ancient empires cannot be represented at the end time coming of Jesus. This is a fatal flaw for those that believe ancient empires are represented in Daniel Chapter Seven.

Daniel Chapter Seven represents nation-empires present at the second coming.

The literal explanation, in my opinion, is the gold, silver, etc. represent in one case succeeding empires of Babylon, Medo-Persia, etc. and in the other case concurrent empires of USA, CIS, Arab / Africa coalition and EEC. Thus, Daniel Chapter Two implies two sets of future empires; the ancient and the modern.

Seven End Time Players

Map of the

The Tribulation Chart

It attempts to sum the Bible passages pertaining to this seven year period between the Rapture of the Church and the 2nd Coming of Jesus Christ.

The chart should be read horizontally from left to right and top to bottom.. It is organized chronologically so that, as you follow any major player from left to right, you trace his progress through time. For example, CIS (Russia) comes to world power in the 1940's, co-leads the world in the 70's, and comes under Antichrist's power in 2034.

The chart has three major skeletal sections; the players involved, the time frame of events, and the order of events.

The players involved are defined in Daniel, Chapter Seven; Ezekiel 38, 39 and Revelation 13. I offer a discussion of those issues in Part II, Chapters 7,8, 9.

The Timeframe of events is discussed in Part One, Chapters 3, 4, 5, and 6. Those time issue conclusions lead to the dates shown on the Chart.

The Order of Events issues are discussed in Chapter Eleven. The "type" of the Exodus through the Jericho battle history is like the First Coming of Jesus to the Second Coming of Jesus. It yields the bizarre marching orders of around Jericho once a day for six days, and seven times on the seventh day. Thus, the antitype is each Seal is one year long, and all the Trumpets come in the seventh year, and all the bowls come out of the seventh Trumpet.

Tribulation Outline

There are certain important skeletal elements which any proposed plan for the tribulation period must take into consideration. They are shown above with their corresponding origin..

The issue is; do they fit together in a logical smooth way with the rest of the scriptures which speak on the structure of the whole period?

The more basic structure is the period starts bad but gets progressively worse until complete destruction comes at the end. These events accommodate that kind of a structure.

As I have said before, the structure is given to us in the "type" of the Jericho battle plan. The Seals opened one per year and the seven Trumpets opened in the seventh year. And, the seven bowls of wrath poured out from the seventh trumpet. The structure is bad to worse to ultimate destruction. A logical sequence.
